

The Junkers, also called Scavengers by some, search among the piles of rubble of old cities and the disposal waste of the Megalopolis, and they always find things to sell or trade. They are adept on repairing machines, although not very neatly, and more often than not they end up creating complex apparatus to solve simple tasks. They are probably the faction that can roam this side of the Wasteland with more freedom of movement than any other, as everyone is interested in trading with them to get good stuff, and it is not wise to attack the people that can get them. That doesn't mean they are totally safe, and from time to time a gang of Junkers is attacked to steal their goods, so although they are not the best fighters in the world, they have wits and devices with which to defend themselves, and they are used to move around dangerous places like no other.

This box contain: Dynamo (crack 'n' snap and electric suit), Gear (blunderbuss, medium blade and hardened leather), Gear (pumper), Piston (heavy blade/ballistic punch, pistol and metallic armour) and Probe (small blade and biohazard protection).

JUNKERS

Los chatarreros, también llamados carroñeros, se dedican a buscar entre los restos de las ciudades y los despojos de las Megalópolis y encontrar cosas que puedan vender o intercambiar. Son expertos en reparar máquinas, si bien de forma no muy elegante, creando en muchas ocasiones aparatos complejos para resolver tareas sencillas. Posiblemente son la facción que más libremente puede moverse por esta zona del Páramo, ya que todo el mundo está interesado en comerciar con ellos para hacerse con materiales, y no es buena idea atacar a quien te los suministra. Eso no es óbice para que alguna vez un grupo de carroñeros pueda ser atacado para robar su mercancía, por lo que si bien no son los mejores combatiendo, disponen de ingenio y aparatos con los que defenderse, y además saben moverse por lugares peligrosos como nadie.

Esta caja contiene: Dinamo (chasqueador y traje voltaico), Engranaje (trabuco, filo medio y cuero endurecido), Engranaje (bombedora), Pistón (filo pesado/puño balístico, pistola y armadura metálica) y Sonda (filo pequeño y protección contra contaminación).
